While researching truck routes for Indianapolis I read about trucker getting tickets for going from one side of the city to the other without using I-469. I suggest using I-469.

Overhead picture of the facility

I drew a white box around the Facility with an opening in the box to show the opening in the fence to turn into. As you can see you will cross some tracks and pass other trucking places, but you will be there before you get to the traffic light.

Street View

This facility isn't well marked and it's next to another trucking company that looks just the same to me. Use the fire hydrant and the traffic light a reference.
