The White arrows in the maps correlate to the white arrows in the pictures. Some pictures have several white arrows because the turns are so close together so be ready for that.

Below is the map that shows this can be a little confusing the first time you go to this location. The customer is not on this map, but it still looks a little muddled. There is overnight parking at both the Exxon and behind the BP.

Heading east is a little more difficult to explain. As soon as you get out into the wooded area you will be given the opportunity to go straight or slight left. Go to the left. That will take you to a stop sign. Turn right then a quick left to go over the bridge. After the bridge the I-26 east bound ramp will be on your left hand side.
